Why changes to asylum rules could spark surge from Calais

A FRENCH proposal to let migrants claim asylum in Britain while still in Calais came under fire yesterday. The plan by senior French politicians was criticised as a potential "disaster" for Britain. Opponents warned it would make border control more difficult and open a pathway for a further influx of people. Further French migration would be costly and could be a major headache for the UK.

By Mark Rowley
to jump the 14 trucks to reach the border, which would allow them to claim asylum, including passports and providing costly asylum seekers reaching the UK. But with the new proposal, all claims for asylum would be settled in France without the requirement of a visa to reach the UK. James Westwood, a senior union politician, warned: "It is the action of a madman."

Fury of port chief as riot police are called in and France accuses Britain of being a soft touch

CALAIS 'IS BESIEGED' BY GANGS OF MIGRANTS

RIOT squads were sent into Calais last night after UK-bound migrants turned the French port into a 'war zone'.

Anarchy broke out when 250 men burst into the town's docks and tried to board vessels sailing for Dover.

One gang of marauders broke through gates and climbed over fences in a desperate bid to reach a ferry.

Brushing off pursuing police officers,

From Nick Fagge in Calais and David Wilkes

the migrants stopped only when the ship's crew turned a fire hose on them and pulled up the car ramps.

The mayor of Calais last night begged David Cameron to come to Calais to tell the waiting hordes that Britain was 'no El Dorado'.

Natalia Bouchar had the UK was too soft on migrants.

In a day of drama:

■ The port authority demanded immediate action, saying the ferry terminal was under siege.

■ A British lorry driver branded Calais a war zone, saying the situation was at its worst in 20 years.

■ A jetton found a slowway in her car after returning from France.

Dramatic film of Wednesday's storming of the port was posted on YouTube by a British lorry driver who watched from his cab as up to 100 manly Brit-tren men ran toward him at full tilt.

As police seize stowaway migrants across South, Cameron is attacked for 'likening them to insects'

Making it through: Police across southern England arrested alleged illegal immigrants yesterday after hundreds stormed the Channel Tunnel entrance in Calais

THE 'SWARM' ON OUR STREETS

THE Calais crisis intensified last night after a day of astonishing scenes on both sides of the Channel triggered by the chaos at the French port.

In France, police fought running battles with migrants trying to storm into the Eurotunnel terminal. At one point, a mother and her young son clutching a teddy bear were seen crawling through a security fence.

It came as David Cameron was attacked by Labour for saying the UK was not a 'safe haven' for a 'swarm' of illegal immigrants. In England, police rounded up suspected migrants on the M20 after they made it to the other side of the Tunnel. One even risked his life by stowing away under a horsebox for two hours. Last night, 200 migrants tried to storm the Tunnel. Shortly after a shuttle train from the UK pulled in, they rushed at the point where cars leaving the Tunnel join the main road. British holidaymakers had to swerve to avoid the crowd of migrants in the road, but a handful made it through before riot police formed a cordon. On another day of drama: ■ Eurotunnel dramatically scaled back its overnight freight service to reduce the opportunities for stowaways - a move which will have major implications for the UK economy, which is already losing £250million a day because of the chaos. ■ The UN's special representative on migration made the absurd claim that

OUR MISSION

In a nutshell, our mission is to stop advertising abuse, by highlighting the conscious choices advertisers and agencies can make to ensure good practice.

Across all sectors of the advertising industry, modern technology has advanced so quickly that ethics haven't been able to keep up. We want to change that.

Now more than ever, brands, agencies and adtech are perfectly placed to consciously change both the way they operate and the content they produce, resulting in communication that is better for all.

That's why we developed a set of six manifestos, with the aim of getting their principles embedded in every UK agency brief. Together we can make a big difference.

The Conscious Advertising Network Manifesto on hate speech:

“[We will] endeavour to avoid advertising with media outlets that fuel hatred on the grounds of race, religion, nationality, sexuality, gender or gender identity, disability, migration status or any other group characteristic.”

Objective 17, UN Global Compact on Migration:

“...Promote independent, objective and quality reporting of media outlets, including internet based information, including by sensitizing and educating media professionals on migration-related issues and terminology, investing in ethical reporting standards and advertising, and stopping allocation of public funding or material support to media outlets that systematically promote intolerance, xenophobia, racism and other forms of discrimination towards migrants, in full respect for the freedom of the media”.
